Celebrating the excellence of American art and craft.

Join the Director's Circle, a national group of museum friends whose vital annual contributions support core education and public programs that celebrate the many stories of America through the work of our country's finest artists.

Director's Circle members enjoy insider access at both the Smithsonian American Art Museum and its Renwick Gallery. Benefits include exhibition previews, our annual Director's Circle Dinner, advance notice of programming, reserved seating to select lectures, curator-led tours and more!

The annual Director's Circle Dinner is an exclusive opportunity to experience an intimate lecture with a nationally recognized artist or arts leader, followed by dinner, all in our beautiful Kogod Courtyard. Past speakers have included Will Cotton, Alex Prager, and Nick Cave.

The Smithsonian American Art Museum and its Renwick Gallery are dedicated to collecting, understanding, and enjoying American art and craft. Your support as a Director's Circle member directly impacts our ability to present the many images of American life to our audiences nationwide by supporting key education initiatives and public programs.

As a Director's Circle member, we welcome you to celebrate and promote the excellence of American art and craft throughout the year through our dynamic programming, groundbreaking exhibitions, and exciting events!
